

Copyright Microbial Strain transfer agreement

I hereby confirm that, upon depositing our microbial Strain(s) number: (Genus species, CCASU-2024-) to the Culture collection Ain Shams University (CCASU), held by Faculty of Pharmacy Ain Shams University, Cairo, Egypt, I certify that:

1. I am (main Researcher.....) authorized by my co-researchers to enter into these arrangements.
2. I warrant, on behalf of myself and my co-researchers, that:
 - the strain is original, has not been formally deposited in any other culture collection, and does not infringe any existing copyright or any other third party rights;
 - I am/We are the sole researcher(s) of the strain and have full authority to enter into this agreement and in granting rights to Faculty of Pharmacy, Ain Shams University are not in breach of any other obligation;
 - the Strain is unlawful, libelous, or which would, if deposited, constitute a breach of contract or of confidence or of commitment given to secrecy;
 - I/We have taken due care to ensure the integrity of the strain. To my/our - and currently accepted scientific - knowledge all statements contained in it purporting to be facts are true and any strain information, condition of growth or instruction contained in the culture will not, if followed accurately, cause any injury, illness or damage to the user.
3. I, and all co-authors agree, when the strain is deposited in CCASU and take the deposition number, to transfer the culture right to CCASU to be used for any other purposes including educational, research or commercial purposes that will be determined only by CCASU culture deposition administrative team.
